LOYALTY AND SACRIFICE

THESE ARE THE DAYS WE MUST FACE ISSUES LIKE GOD'S MEN

Rev. Clifford A. Cole in his sermon at the Christian church Sunday took for his text:

"If any man would come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." Mark 8:34.

A man isn't worth anything to the church nor to the community till he has convictions on things. One of the weaknesses of humankind has been that the majority of us live a sort of second-hand existence, taking our cue from others, afraid to stand up and be counted as having convictions of our own.

These are days when we've got to face issues like God's men; alive, willing, bleeding, praying, giving like Christ gave, brooking no slackers, not ashamed to come out in the open for God, the Church and our Country. It's no time for weak, pale, inane, backboneless, idle, on-the-fence, "oh, I guess so," excuse making, citizens, either of the country or of the Kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Jesus Christ came to a time in His ministry when He asked His disciples to stand up and be counted. Somewhere in Galilee, in a prayer-meeting, He broaches the question, "Who say ye that I am? You've said that the crowds are divided, some saying one thing and some another. It grieves Me that they do not speak with one voice. Let that be as it may; what do you say about it?" He makes the question of loyalty direct and personal; the conviction individual. He now gives them opportunity to go on with Him or to go back with the crowd. The time for action has come. There's to be no neutral ground now. They are to choose.

We have faced action a year now in our country with respect to war. The day of neutrality passed April 6th, 1917. There is no neutral ground. We're for or against.

We've taken the position always in the church that one who has not come out into the open and committed himself to Jesus Christ is none of His. He is not counted for Christ till he has avowed his allegiance by an act. Is that correct? Till a man confesses, he never truly honors his Lord and his life is a living testimony against Him. Is that the Gospel? A man never confidently believes till he confesses. Is that your experience?

Like the church, our country has sought the open, personal confession of every citizen, a testimony of his or her loyalty. There can be no middle ground. The great question has been asked. The nation has denied itself and taken up the cross of humanity. What are you and I going to render as a testimony of our loyalty? It's got to be something. We

AT POINT OF DEATH

MRS. LELITA BARSENA STRUCK BY GLENDALE-MONTROSE CAR MONDAY NIGHT

The victim of another serious street-car accident is lying at the point of death at the Glendale Sanitarium. Monday evening, between eight and nine o'clock, Mrs. Lelita Barsena, 53 years of age, residing at 406 Cedar street, accompanied by her little granddaughter, Lelita Herandez, five years old, was waiting for a car on Glendale avenue and started to cross the tracks by the Ross Packing House. A Glendale-Montrose car which she had not observed struck her. The child was also thrown down but not seriously injured. The woman, in an unconscious condition, was brought to the Glendale Sanitarium, where Dr. Johnson worked over her for an hour and a half. It was found that she had suffered a very severe fracture of the jaw and a bad wound on the top of her head above the forehead on the right side, with probable internal injuries.

At this writing, 10:30 Tuesday morning, attendants at the Sanitarium report that she is still unconscious and that physicians entertain little hope of her recovery.

The car which struck her was No. 103, on which W. B. Phillips of 1111 Broadway was motorman and John Danford of 915 West Fifth street conductor.

It has come to the knowledge of the editor of the Evening News that good, patriotic and loyal citizens of Glendale have been put in the non-patriotic list by gossiping whisperers. The real true patriot is slow to condemn his fellow citizens without just cause.

TRUSTEES ORGANIZE

GEO. B. WOODBERRY ELECTED CHAIRMAN BOARD. RETIRING TRUSTEES REMEMBERED

The retirement of the old Board of City Trustees and the organization of the new Board was effected Monday evening.

The meeting convened at 5 p. m. with Chairman Thompson in the chair. There were several items of unfinished business to be disposed of, one of which was the amendment of the ordinance providing for the issuing of bonds of $17,000 for fire apparatus, the amendment covering a merely technical matter by which the bond coupons were to read "Payable in gold coin" instead of "Lawful money of the United States." The amendment was declared read for the second time and laid over for final reading.

The next item of business concerned the proposed contract between the City and American-La France Company, for the purchase of fire apparatus. A change was made in a rider attached to the contract under which the company was to have the privilege of substituting other materials than those called for in the contract in case war conditions should make it impossible to secure the materials named in the specifications. For that clause a rider prepared by City Attorney Evans was substituted, with the consent of Mr. Baird, the representative of the contracting company, which provided that any substitution of materials should be subject to the knowledge and consent of Glendale officials. The instrument also definitely fixed the time of delivery of apparatus to 120 days from date of signature of contract. With those amendments the contract as drawn was signed after due authority had been given by vote of the Board.

The vote at the recent city election was then canvassed and C. H. Henry and Hartley Shaw were declared lawfully elected as City Trustees, J. C. Sherer, City Clerk, and J. W. Stauffacher, City Treasurer. The oath was then administered to these officers and they were formally inducted, Messrs. Thompson and Grist retiring and Messrs. Shaw and Henry taking their seats. The reorganized board then elected G. B. Woodberry its chairman. The appointment of committees was deferred until a subsequent meeting. Mr. Woodberry accepted the chairmanship reluctantly, declaring he did not feel equal to increased work or responsibilities.

This completed the business of the assembly except that Chairman Woodberry on behalf of his associates on the Board made a little speech expressing their appreciation of the efficient service of ex-Trustees Thompson and Grist and presenting them with pretty scarf pins which, he declared, have no great value in themselves but will serve as reminders of the esteem in which these officials are held by the men with whom they have worked in serving the interests of the city.

Mr. Thompson and Mr. Grist responded with appropriate speeches, in which they expressed the pleasure it gave them to receive these testimonials of appreciation. Mr. Thompson congratulated the Board on the men selected, who, he predicted, would give fine service and have more time to give to city affairs than he could afford to spare. Both gentlemen declared they would continue to feel an active interest in the affairs of the city and keep in touch with the work of the Board.

BRITISH AMBULANCE SOCIETY

Members of the Glendale Branch of the British Ambulance Society are anxious to give the public a clear understanding of the policy and aims of their organization. Its relief work, they say, is by no means confined to the British, but is distributed in the most impartial way among the allies wherever the need is greatest. In this connection Miss Ina Whitaker, secretary of the Society, says:

"The society here sends all its money donations and products to the British Red Cross in London, which is international headquarters. The British Red Cross helps all the nations at war. Whoever needs it gets the help. They help the wounded of all allied nations. Hospital garments sent from the Gelndale Branch have been received by soldiers of various nationalities in hospitals in France. The secretary of the Glendale Branch is in receipt of letters and post cards from soldiers of all nationalities who have received its garments and parcels, and acknowledged the gifts."

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday. Northerly winds.

SPOHR IS LOYAL AMERICAN

To Whom It May Concern:

In the last day or two my friends have come to me telling me of rumors they have heard of my being a German sympathizer, of having relatives in the German army, of not being a member and not contributing to the Red Cross of this city and of not buying Liberty bonds. I absolutely deny any and all of these rumors, which can be proven false by inquiry at my place of business or at the Bank of Glendale. I want it distinctly understood that there is no German blood in my veins, my family, my father's or my grandfathers', that I am an American in every sense of the word, and any individual who makes any statements to the contrary I openly charge to be lower than the Hun as we know him today.

BALLEUIL HAS FALLEN

GERMANS NOW OCCUPY IMPORTANT CITY— FIRST GEOGRAPHICAL OBJECTIVE WON BY ENEMY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, April 16.—Balleuil, one of the most important strategic points in the northern part of the Flanders salient, has been captured by the Germans, Field Marshal Haig reported today. "We have fallen back north of Balleuil and Wulverghem. Balleuil is in the enemy's hands," he said.

Balleuil is a town of 12,000 persons, well constructed before the war, and guarded the entire Ypres sector, Messines Ridge and Zonnebeke. Balleuil is the first main geographical objective of the German drive to fall. It is located on the Armentieres-Hazebrouck railway midway between the two cities. The way is now open to Hazebrouck (one of the most important railway and highway centers in France) north to Ypres around the western edge of Messines ridge. The British have also abandoned Wulverghem, but it is believed the Germans have not yet occupied it as it is still untenable under British guns.

STUDENT AVIATOR KILLED AT LONG BEACH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONG BEACH, April 16.—Lawrence M. Reel, 21, student aviator, was killed and Grisdol Christofferson, aviator instructor, was fatally injured this morning when their machine crashed to the east beach on the return from a practice flight at sea. The plane struck nose down past the third line of breakers. A party of bathers in the surf, among whom was Fatty Arbuckle, film comedian, went to the rescue. Arbuckle released Reel from the wreckage but he had been drowned.

TEN ENEMY TRAWLERS SUNK YESTERDAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, April 16.—Ten German trawlers were sunk by British war ships in the Cattegat, the British admiralty announced today. British war ships swept the Cattegat yeserday in a naval raid.

BAKER RETURNS FROM FRANCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Secretary of War Baker has returned from an inspection tour of France and has landed at an American port. "I have a strong feeling of pride and confidence in the American army and its achievements in France," he said.

LIBERTY LOAN REACHES BILLION MARK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The Liberty Loan subscription is passing the first billion mark today, according to authentic figures announced here. Eleven of the twelve federal reserve districts have reported near the $900,000,000 mark, with the Minneapolis district not yet heard from.

CLUBS DO WAR WORK

WOMEN ORGANIZED THROUGHOUT THE NATION FOR STRENUOUS SERVICE

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, 101 Orange street, President of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's clubs, was a guest of the Redondo Woman's club Monday at their Reciprocity meeting. Mrs. Jones was very much interested when the announcement was made that the Redondo club had purchased $1800 of Liberty bonds from their club treasury, as that is the same amount subscribed by the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club.

"This is an illustration of what the Woman's clubs are doing to win the war," says Mrs. Jones. "Many a woman who has paid her club dues and is thus part owner of Liberty bonds could not purchase bonds personally.

"From the treasury of the General Federation $22,000 of Liberty bonds have been purchased. This all comes from the dues of the 3,000,000 club women throughout the country. From the state treasury $2000 have been invested in bonds and the Los Angeles district has purchased a $100 bond. If each of the 6 districts of the state do as well as Los Angeles, $2600 will have been invested from the district and state treasuries. When we realize that individual clubs the size of Glendale and Redondo have spent $1800 for bonds we can scarcely overestimate the work the clubs are doing. There are 164 clubs in the Los Angeles district alone, including a membership of 17,000 women, and if each one of these should buy only a $50 bond, $8200 would be the result. Add this to the bonds purchased from the state and district treasuries and you have a total of $128,000 for Uncle Sam.

"This amount is invested wholly from the club treasuries and has nothing to do with the amounts subscribed by the individual club women. I think this speaks well for the business ability of our club women and should be an encouragement to the members to keep up their dues, and thus enable the organization to help Uncle Sam.

"Buying Liberty bonds is only one method of serving Uncle Sam that the clubs have taken up. The Woman's club is particularly adapted to serving the government. The organization is such that any order from Washington can reach the 3,000,000 women members of the clubs within a few days. The clubs are ready to take up any phase of war work without the necessity of organizing for the work first.

"The clubs have taken up the matter of building furlough homes for the boys at the front. All this fund is to come from individual voluntary subscriptions from the members. This work in no way interferes with or duplicates the work of the Y. M. C. A. Clubs are doing Red Cross work, in many cases clubs as a whole have become Red Cross auxiliaries They are doing much in food conservation work and every phase of war activity."

Mrs. Jones visits three clubs a week throughout her district and her talks have been along the line of impressing upon the members their responsibilities and opportunities in the clubs as related to war work.

TUPPER CHANGES LOCATION

Wallace Tupper, who for five years has been conducting a garage known as the Glendale Auto Machine Company at 428 Glendale avenue, has moved to The Glendale Garage, 332 Glendale avenue, where he will have quarters somewhat larger. He is installing new machinery and a larger stock than he has heretofore carried. He is keeping the mechanics who have been with him for some time, viz., Leroy Hinchcliff and O. M. Clinton. With the improved facilities he will have he anticipates a considerably increased business in his new location.

STUDY THE TRACTOR

At the tractor school at San Fernando, which came to an end recently, an interested throng was present during all the time the tractors were being demonstrated, and about half the time women and young ladies were piloting the big machines over the field, following the freshly cut and turned furrows as best they could, and some of the work done by the gentler sex, was most excellent, too. Those who took the course totalled 121.

We will pay 10 cents for the first copy of the Glendale Evening News of the issue of December 22, 1917, brought to this office.

SOLDIER'S LOT FOR HIM

JESSE E. SMITH SECURES INDUCTION INTO ORDNANCE DEPARTMENT AT BERKELEY

Jesse E. Smith, who went to San Francisco about two weeks ago, blew into Glendale yesterday looking very happy and very fit. His mind is at rest as he has been accepted by Uncle Sam and is ready whenever he is called. When asked for an account of his experiences trying to break into the service he told of his visit to the Ordnance Department at Berkeley, where he had filed an application some time before and how after various delays he was informed that his application had been accepted and passed and forwarded to Washington and that he was free to return to his place of business to await instructions.

"San Francisco," said he, "is making a very enthusiastic drive for fifty-four million dollars, its quota in the Liberty Loan campaign. It has something over half of that amount already subscribed. It started the drive with a very elaborate parade that took over an hour and a half to pass.

"When I get my instructions I will undoubtedly be called for six weeks' training at the University of California at Berkeley, and from there I will probably be sent to the U. S. Arsenal at Benicia. I do not know where I will go from there.

"I met Sergeant Louis A. Lewis, who has been at the Enlisted School at Fort Scott, and I also saw Charles Berger of Orange Grove avenue, who has been at the aviation school at Berkeley training for the flying corps. He has had five weeks' training and is doing very well, but the work at the school is strenuous, calling for continual study day and night. They are cramming all the time and students must get it in order to pass.

"I witnessed the 'retreat' on the campus at five o'clock, and it was an inspiring sight."

Mr. Smith has sold his Ford Agency to Messrs. Walker, Wilde and McFadden and is now concentrating on his military future. His mother, who accompanied him to San Francisco, left there Sunday noon for Toledo, Ohio, where she will reside with a daughter during Mr. Smith's absence. She will stop en route at Salt Lake, Chicago, and other places where she has friends.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED

We are very fortunate to have an opportunity to hear Dr. Edgar Fay Daugherty talk tonight. Dr. Daugherty is pastor of the First Christian Church and a noted orator.

His talk will be based on the war. We can confidently count on hearing a mighty interesting talk. Every person in Glendale should attend this meeting. Dr. Daugherty has a real message of importance that will be delivered in a highly interesting and forceful manner. Be sure and attend and bring your friends.

IN MEMORIAM

THE PASSING OF CAPT. WELLS MOURNED BY TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB MEMBERS

Taps sounded over the remains of Capt. James M. Wells, a Civil War veteran and honorary member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, Friday afternoon, April 12th, in Los Angeles.

For some years Capt. Wells was a well-known person in Glendale, owning a home on Everett street, but because of ill health was obliged to give it up, and for a time lived at Sawtelle and the Glendale Sanitarium.

Capt. Wells was much interested in the Tuesday Afternoon Club and was always ready to respond when asked to speak to the members. At one time he gave a lecture on his escape from Libby prison, he being one of the 109 who gained freedom by tunneling under the walls, and donated the proceeds to the club. On the 133rd anniversary of the adoption of "Old Glory" as our flag, he gave an impressive talk and recited in a beautiful way the lines he loved: "Lead, glorious flag, encircled by our love, lead thou us on."

During his residence in Glendale this distinguished war veteran wrote a book entitled "With Touch of Elbow," personal recollections of events during and after the Civil War and bringing to mind many of the stirring events of the "Reconstruction Period."

In 1909, Capt. Wells was made an honorary member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, but increasing infirmities prevented his attendance during the last few years.

All must recognize the universal law of change—how each one fulfills his day in his place and then passes away.

can't refuse and be loyal. It's required that every man and woman in some open and public way, by means offered by the government, commit himself or herself.

The two confessions are linked together. We would not have been called upon by a Christless nation to go out in defense of humanity and democracy. It's because America has said, "He is the Christ, the Son of the Living God," that we today take up a role unique in history, assuming to lay down our lives for others.

II—Christ's sacrifice and his requirement of the disciples (verses 31, 34).

One of the things that Christ's disciples seemed not to grasp was the prediction of His death. Yet this was the great imperative thing of His life. He must suffer many things and be killed and after three days arise again. Some things must be. We had hoped for peace; that we might not be drawn into the vortex of the great war. But, much as we hate war, like He hated death, we are willing to lose our life to save it, and to save others.

"If a man would come after me, let him deny himself," etc. There is no sin more violently condemned by the Christ and none more insidious and damning than selfishness. If I were asked, What one thing would you most desire for this old world? I would unhesitatingly say, The utter destruction of selfishness. It is the crowning sin. It blasts the hope of even him who says he has no sin. It is the outstanding sin of them who say there is no sin. It is the chief cornerstone of the cause of this great war. It is the enemy we are buying our Liberty Bonds to crush and sending our fairest youth, to die, to destroy from the hearts of rulers and nations.

Our selfishness, yours and mine, meant the Cross for Him! And its blot is blackening the world yet today and will take your blood and mine to efface.

Peter draws back from the hardship and sacrifice, ashamed of the Master's program of humiliation. With the sharpest rebuke He ever uttered, the Master tries to impress that not only He but they must expect hardship and humiliation. If they are seeking honor and glory with Him, they must be faithful to Him in a time of dishonor and humiliation, so they can share with Him in the time of honor and glory. How true today when, as never before in history, men are going out to lay down their lives for others, that you and I must sacrifice with them to later share with them.

"But whosoever shall lose his life for My sake and the Gospel's shall find it."

Ah, a man doesn't enlist and then go back home and take things easy with the remark, "I have enlisted, hence I am a soldier, I am serving my country." Men don't enlist for honor, but for service.

So, in the Church.

A lot of folks are I. W. W.'s in the Church, who would shoot a real I. W. W. on sight. Critics, "ferninst," agitators. What's the matter with the Church? I'll tell you. There are not enough folks willing to lose their lives for Christ's sake and the Gospel's.

If we fail in the nation's conflict, if we do not measure up to what we ought, it will not be the fault of our leaders, although none is perfect. They do their best. It will be because of slackers and unwilling hearts among the great people. Because we do not measure up. Because we are not willing to lose our lives for our country's and for humanity's sake.

If the Church fails in this great hour, it will not be the fault of her ministers and leaders, weak as many of us are, but because of slackers in the pew and unwilling hearts among the people who make up the great membership. Because we are not willing to lose our lives for Christ's sake and the Gospel's.

We need to stand up and be counted. Our time is not too sacred for long and weary hours for Christ. Our talent is not ours but belongs to Him and for His Church. Our money is not ours but God's, and nothing in Heaven or on earth can save us if selfishness is the deciding factor in its use. Let none of us forget that!

PRE-COMMUNION WEEK

David Black and James Cooper are directing the program, which is open and free to the public. Wednesday evening regular prayer meeting. Thursday evening "Sunday School night." H. J. Baldwin of the Bible Institute will speak on "The Sunday School and Evangelism." There is no better speaker on this subject. All should hear him, especially Sunday School teachers and officers.

Personals

Mrs. F. D. Silvius and two friends, Mr. and Mrs. Case of Camdon, North Dakota, motored to San Diego Friday and spent the week-end there, returning Monday.

Mrs. Stannert, a former resident of Glendale and sister of Mrs. W. E. Heald of 912 Lomita Ave., and her daughters Fay and Elda, also her son Raymond, came up from their home in Long Beach and spent Sunday in Glendale at the Heald home.

Wallace Tupper, Roy Hinchcliff, Mell Moore, O. M. Clinton and Mr. Patch had a delightful trip to Catalina last Sunday in the motor boat which the party own and which they keep at Wilmington. They do not seem to fear submarines and expect to get a great deal of pleasure out of their craft during the season.

Mrs. Charles Bosserman, of La Porte, Indiana, who is wintering at the Gray Hotel, entertained Dr. and Mrs. Colin Cable, Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Bosserman, and Miss Freeland, at Hotel Alexandria Saturday. Mrs. Charles Bosserman, Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Bosserman and Miss Freeland left Monday for a three-day trip to San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis, 205 Lomita avenue, have received the first letter from their son Hill, since he arrived in France. He reports a pleasant voyage and says he could write volumes of interesting news if he were only allowed to do so. He was at a French port when writing and said he didn't know when they would move on but hoped it would be soon. Hill's address is Headquarters Battalion, General Headquarters, American Expeditionary Forces.

Records at the Police and Traffic Department, City Hall, show a collision at 7 p. m. April 12th at the corner of Brand boulevard and Milford streets between O. W. Spencer on a motorcycle and a Japanese fruit peddler on a motor truck. Both machines were slightly damaged and Mr. Spencer was bruised and scratched but not seriously hurt. The Glendale police are trying to locate the person who cut the swing on the playground of the Pacific avenue school some time between Saturday night and Monday morning.

H. L. Miller Co. reports the sale of 131 East Eighth street, a new 5-room house belonging to J. H. Flower, to W. G. Cowan of Long Beach. Mr. Cowan is a retired minister and intends to make his home in Glendale. They have already moved in. The company has also exchange to T. B. Thompson of Glendale a 5-room house in Hollywood belonging to Rebecca Hixon for a lot in Monrovia. They have rented many houses the past two weeks and say that business is getting good and that people are coming to Glendale in bunches.

Clyde C. Downing, of the law firm of Sprowls & Downing, having offices in the Mason building, Los Angeles, has just been commissioned a lieutenant in the aviation department of the U. S. Army and ordered to Wichita Falls, Texas. Mr. Downing lived at Glendale for two years with his sister, Mrs. W. T. Sprowls, and while here made many warm friends who admire him for his sterling worth. Lieutenant Downing is a brother to R. E. Downing, manager of the Western Union telegraph office at Glendale.

Mrs. Helen L. Sadler got back last week from San Francisco where she was called several weeks ago to attend her mother who was very ill. She remained with her until she was quite recovered. Monday she was at the Red Cross headquarters, where she was warmly welcomed in the hospital garments department. Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, chairman, and other workers were busy preparing goods for the shipment to be made this week. It will contain a goodly number of surgeon's operating masks and caps which, as hitherto, have been made by the pupils of the Intermediate School. Mrs. Ellis is very appreciative of the good quality of the work the boys and girls have done and says the report from headquarters after the caps and masks have been shipped has always been "Caps and masks O. K." The shipment will also include a large amount of knitted goods.

LIBERTY BOND FACTS

Do it now and make up for lost time.

Granting that the terrible events of the war could not have been foreseen, every good American probably wishes today that the war preparations, now so actively progressing, had been started in this country long ago. Possibly the war would have been over now.

But we should not cry over spilled milk.

The vital question now is—what can we do now to hurry along that American military aid so longingly desired by our allies?

First of all—Peace talk at this time is criminal and every utterance may mean the life of a soldier—one of our boys. It has recently been said that "the only good pacifist for the terrible days to come is a dead German."

Second—This Third Liberty Loan for a minimum of three billion dollars must be oversubscribed to the total of five billion dollars. That will help to make up for lost time.

Every American soldier today wishes he was in France fighting shoulder to shoulder with those British heroes. We can help to get him there quickly if we do our part in the Third Liberty Loan.

GOOD TEMPLARS

ARE ADDRESSED BY REV. STEVENS AT BANQUET AT GLENDALE CAFE

The Good Templar's banquet given last night in the Jewel City cafe proved to be one of the most pleasant affairs in the history of the order. The beautiful cafe was decorated with flags, ropes of ivy and ferns, while the tables were brightened with bouquets of golden poppies. About seventy-five participated in the bountiful banquet and enjoyed the splendid program.

Miss Lena Mae Brice, accompanied by Miss Emma Reed, contributed several violin selections. A humorous recitation was given by Miss Lela Standiford of Pasadena, Mrs. Jeffs of the same city contributing a piano solo.

Theo. Kanouse, Grand Secretary of the Order, W. K. Jeffs, Grand Chief Templar, Charles Burger and Mrs. Anne Robbins all gave brief but snappy talks.

The toastmaster, Arthur G. Lindley, then introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. Frank G. H. Stevens, pastor of Trinity Methodist church of Pomona. Rev. Stevens was for many years pastor of Lake avenue Methodist church, Pasadena, and a member of Pasadena lodge of Good Templars. He spoke of the work done by the order in ridding Pasadena of saloons and of how the work started by a loyal band of Good Templars years ago, making Pasadena the first city in the state to go dry, has grown until saloons and roadhouses have been banished all over the country. Interesting facts and witty references were intermingled in Rev. Stevens' speech.

The audience joined in singing "America" and "God Be with You Till We Meet Again," thus closing an enjoyable evening.

LILY OF FRANCE DAY

On tomorrow, Wednesday, our French allies will be honored by the observance of Lily of France Day, when the national flower of France will be in evidence in every American home. The national French flower is the fleur de lys, or flower of lily, known to us as the iris. Therefore the iris, in all its shades of purple and lilac, should grace our tables. Friends are asked to bring cut iris to the plant department of the Red Cross. Bring them in quantities, that there may be a great showing. Glendale residents having no iris (or flags) blooming in their gardens are urged to purchase a 10 or 15-cent bunch at the Red Cross Shop, to show their friendship for the brave French nation and to swell the receipts of the Red Cross cause. Special representatives of the plant department will call in the early morning upon Glendale merchants, inviting them to purchase iris for window display.

Attention, Britishers

All persons of British birth or extraction are needed to help the work of the Glendale branch of the British Ambulance Society. We must have your help to carry on this noble work. The ladies are working and the men must come to their aid with their dollars.

YOUTH!

In the wake of the Hun there are worse things than death. Neither helpless youth nor defenseless age is spared.

Frightfulness must be abolished forever and now. You must do your share to rid the world of it.

If you can't shoulder a gun or fly an airship, you can lend your dollars.

Do you condone frightfulness? Don't say "No." Words won't buy ships or ammunition.

Money is now the Nation's greatest need. We must have money to keep "our boys" supplied with food and clothes—with cannon, shells, cartridges—with blankets, horses, aeroplanes—all the tools of war with which to crush a monstrous foe who points to ravished Belgium, her women and her children, and promises that we, too, shall taste his Hohenzollern hate.

Shall we crush the Hun on the battle-fields of Europe or grapple with his fiendish soldiery here among our homes?

The time has come to prove your loyalty.

If you hold back now you are as bad as the avowed traitor. Your money hidden away in a sock or vault will not buy the things that America needs and must have. Your citizenship is being tested. If you are an American you will
